Abstract

In this paper we show the used algorithm for filtering web pages. The paper is focused at development of software to automatically filter web pages, pornographic web pages in this case. To carry out this (automatic filtering), are implemented data mining techniques and incremental learning algorithms for the extraction, representation and classification process.

Keywords
Hypertext Classification, Machine Learning, Web Content Filtering, Web Mining.