Abstract

Foreign policy represents a public policy whereby the nation’s goals and objectives are set within the framework of the international community. This work is intended to discuss the elements enabling the construction of “high-quality decision-making” by means of the development of institutional spaces.

Keywords

Decision-making; Foreign policies; Institutions.