Abstract
The National UAM-INBA Dance Award is a medal with particular significance for the dance stage in Mexico and the Americas. Throughout its existence, the Award has sought to give recognition to the expression of what it is to be a human being in today's world. The INBA and the UAM have made a commitment to giving this award a continent-wide profile. Foreign jurors have played an important part in the award, and administrators of festivals in other countries have served as guests of honor. The fact that the award is celebrating its twenty-fourth year speaks to its lasting value in this country.
