Abstract

This article is referenced to fundamentals knowledge and abilities by welding manufacture process personnel, relationship at technical criteria who’s applied specifically in the elaboration of Busscar S.A. welding standard. Standardization is the principal component around an specific product, in this way the optimization of productivity is granted by the implicit process quality.