Abstract

Base on the results of Estate of the art about knowledge produced about youth in Colombia 1985-2003, this article presents, from the perspective of the biopolitics, a reflection about the production of the condition of youth in Colombia and the effect of the discourses and the social politic contexts in this production.

Keywords

Youth condition, youth and biopolitics, discourses and dispositives involved in the production of youth in Colombia.