Abstract
The main purpose of the present work is to demonstrate -through the rhetoric of image- how the transtextual transformation resource (Genette 1982) modifies a commercial hypotext in order to configure a hypertext with literary function in the fifteen (15) photographs illustrated in Raúl Zurita’s Anteparadise (1977).

Keywords
Zurita, rhetoric, photograph, iconic message, signifier, connotators