Abstract
The programs of the main Law Schools of American Universities are examined, following a specialised survey, in order to determine the situation the History of Labour Law occupies in these programs.

Keywords
United States, historical-legal teachings, History of Labour Law.