Abstract

The crisis of the 90 th has brought up the precepts of the Social Economy as a guide to different cooperative projects. In this article, we analyze an Educational Cooperative and its Hours Bank within the perspective of the category of gift in order to increase our comprehension about the social relations construction inside this socioeconomic organization, but also we will try to go further into the relations between the Hours Bank and the different transnational corporations that make donations to them.

Keywords

Social and Solidarity Economy, Gift Economy, Money, Power Relations, Subjectivity.