According to the studies made on the diagnosis applied to infants from 0 to 3 years old, not only in Cuba but in other parts of the world, the article suggests a sequence of guidelines useful to educators, promoters, executors and family in general. These guidelines are the results of an investigation recently concluded, whose objective is to orient, with accurate indications, how to deal with the psycho pedagogical diagnosis at an age when the development of cognitive processes are still incipient. The guidelines proposed in the work have a great value for carrying out the diagnostic process in this period.
