Abstract
This paper identifies the parameters required to create opportunities that would strengthen the social fabric and would promote a comprehensive development through the artistic expression as a method for expressing feelings and constructing cultural and social identities as individuals, which, in our global context have been eroded by the homogenization of experiences.

Keywords
Artistic expression, identity construction, education for a comprehensive development.