Abstract
This paper presents a review on the admissibility of the appeal, on the resolution which rules on temporary child support that have been dictated in open court, in the specific case of child support procedure. Two aspects are addressed: i) if permitted the filing of the appeal and ii) how to present the appeal. In the process of finding a methodological solution in the adressed issues, we will see strong aspects of Codification context.

Keywords
Appeal, Temporary Child Support, Precautionary Measure.