Abstract
The objective of the present article is approach to postdisciplinarity in the communication field. Postdisciplinarity is a proposal that attempt rethink legitimacy and pertinence of investigative and training process in communication field. The matter is important in social science in general, that now is to address from your appearance on the scene, and point of view of authors about advantages and constraints of disciplinary and cross-disciplinary.

Keywords
Discipline, cross-interdisciplinarity, postdisciplinarity, communication.