Abstract

Starting from the analysis of judicial documents produced in Córdoba, Tucumán, the article tries to recognise the composition, intra-family relationships and conflicts experienced by Olmos de Aguilera. The judicial processes provide to discussion strategies of an elite family, as well as to understand the disputes between family members and relatives.

Keywords

Elite family, kinship, judicial system, colonial system, litigation