Abstract

Present study different fireproof thermoplastics composites are formulated using as polymeric matrix polypropylene and sugar cane bagasse as fibre source. In a first approach, physical test and Differential Scanning Calorimetry demonstrate that are attractive features for the application of these new materials in the industry.

Keywords

Polypropylene, bagasse, composites.