Abstract
In this paper is presented the mathematical base useful to establish the analysis that deals with the noxious effect produced on the planetary mechanisms in the gearboxes for wind turbine generator systems, given by the variable conditions of the velocity and direction of the wind.

Keywords
Gyroscopic effect, planetary gears, dynamic loads, wind turbine, wind energy