Abstract
Communication helps in adjusting behavior, involves the exchange of information, and affects the design decisions, in which actors organize their daily lives, to engage in creative acts generated by the interactions between subjects.

Keywords
Communication, behavior, information.