Abstract

Based on practical, technical, and critical approaches, curriculum theories deal with the concept of civic education. This is thought to reinforce the critical curriculum and its participation in the new trends of citizenship where the teacher has a central role.

Keywords

critical curriculum, modern civic education