Abstract
The main objective of this document is to identify the incidence of the land use policy on the conformation of urbanism structure, in particular the city boundaries (Bogota’s West Boundary Case). At the same time, it analyzes the role of these policies in the development of Bogota’s Master Plan, and the relationship between Bogota and the Region. The topics of this article are: to create a boundary definition, to identify Bogota’s land use policies and establish which one of them is being used on the boundaries, and finally, to identify the small town planning decisions and its consequences on the boundary. As a result of this analysis, we make a conclusion about the incidence of the Land Use Policy on Bogota’s West Boundary.
