Abstract
This article analyzes the presence of the History of the Education in the web pages of the Andalusian schools. The study themselves central so much in the texts as in the images that appear in the web pages. We discover which are the objectives, the way in which they treat the History and the data that include the schools.

Keywords
History of the Education in Andalucia, Educational technology, Internet and education, Religious schools, history of the primary education, history of the secondary education.