Abstract
The knowledge society and European Higher Education Area (EHEA) impose and demand new competences to the professional developed and the educational practizing of the Spanish University, which although it should never lose its essence either it can not remain impassive to the process of adaptation around it. We actually show a practical which tries to make a contribution to improve education and training process, achieving it through academic staff education on matters of Didactic-Pedagogy and Communicative Management of Information Technologies (IT) and it may suposse a contribution to the EHEA full integration.

Keywords
E-learning, European Higher Education Area (EHEA), Campus Andaluz Virtual.