Abstract

This article is focused in knowing which have been the actual evolution of financial margin at the commercial bank in Mexico after the financial crisis in 1995, and how it affected the financings promotion in the productive activity at the economy. In this way, it is established like a theoretic reference setting the actual poskeynesian postulates over the commercial banks role at the economics, and its importance in the financially to the investment with direct impact in the employments and economics income increasing. Therefore, it is analyze the actual evolution of the financial margin and the due handbag in Mexico for the period 1995-2005, in order to know how it has influenced the bank financing at the productive sector of the Mexican economy.

Keywords

financial sector, commercial bank, financial margin, due handbag.