Abstract

We present new records of Abronia mixteca in the Mexican state of Oaxaca. The organisms were found in pine forest, pine-oak forest, and oak-pine forest from 5 localities in the physiographic subprovince of Mountains and Valleys of Western Oaxaca. These records increase the distribution area of A. mixteca known to date.

Keywords

Abronia mixteca, Mixtecan arboreal alligator lizard, distribution, altitudinal range, vegetation types.