Abstract
In this article there is analyzed as a challenge of the work in retrospective vision, what this one has been, but also what already is not in the present and what might be in the future, everything in reason of the circumstances and vicissitudes that faces at present. The author invites to the review and reflection of the reader, in the diverse stages that the proposes.

Keywords
Past, present, future, challenges, change, transformation, work.