Abstract

This article offers to the teachers of Physical Education a revision of the studies made, as much in the international scope as in the national and regional, about the epidemiologist dimension of the obesity and the overweight, and tries to promote the reflection on the possible interventions from the educative scope, or at level of prevention or treatment.

Keywords

obesity, overweight, physical education.