Abstract

WebQuest is a didactic resource based on the constructivist learning and on the cooperative methodology that at the moment is a very successful in Pre-School, Primary and Secondary level. This introductory article aims to show an utilization proposal of this resource at university level with LAMS -Learning Activity Management System- through such virtual environments as Moodle.

Keywords

WebQuest, collaborative learning approaches, LAMS, university education, European Higher Education Area, Moodle

Available in: http://www.redalyc.org/articulo.oa?id=54717043006