Abstract

The primary interest of the present paper is to reflect about the transformations in modern society and their effect on the daily dynamics of the city and in the practices of the people who inhabit it. Our reflections are centered particularly on Mexico City and in the youths who live there.

Keywords

City, identity, youth, modernity, youth culture.