Abstract
Amidst the celebration of the bicentennial of Charles Darwin’s birth, a brief profile of his life is presented, along with a critical appraisal of his works and its long-lasting influence on Psychology.

Keywords
Darwin, Charles Robert, 1809-1882, criticism and interpretation human evolution.