Abstract
This essay is a reflection inside of international structures and international public law and it is a position front at problems, like the globalization which unbalance the politic structures, social and economy of the nations, like the latinoamericans. The new economy currents of the world nowadays we are living have lead us, above some countries to make more dependents and weak our economies with referents at strong countries, whom fight the power in several places on the planet, and this kind of troubles could get to hark back against everybody at middle of the time, if we can not work it out. Is very urgent everybody be able adjust the juridics rules of international public law, for eviting the abuses of power because this is against of the nations of the third world. Therefore, we must think about one more time of the activities are happening today and try to stop the abuses of the strong countries against weak nations.

Keywords
International Public Law,
financial weaknesses, economic dependence, globalization, international structures.