Abstract
This article analyzes the main factors that have caused revolts in several Arab countries since the beginning of the year 2011. Mainly identifies various aspects related to the absence of democracy, lack of freedoms, economic insecurity and basic human needs as the main causes that have generated these conflicts, where the role of young people has been crucial.

Keywords
Arab revolts, conflicts, democracy, freedom, human needs.