Abstract
This essay is focused around constitutional justice, and oriented towards contributing to rescue the history of our national public law. It points out the manner the constitutional court was gradually structured and the role the court and judges in general are destined to play.

Keywords
Constitutional court, constituted powers, constitutional jurisdiction, constitutional interpretation, neoconstitutionalism, democratic state.