Abstract

Over the last twenty years, the psychologists of Galicia have constructed an organizational project for the scientific and professional development of Psychology, culminating in the creation, in the year 2000, of the Colexio Oficial de Psicólogos de Galicia (Psychological Association of Galicia). The aim of these notes is to highlight the main events that have occurred and the principal activities carried out during this period.