Abstract

In the next pages I would like to debateable about the war which apparently is installed like a new arm for the powerful states and in the others side about the normally is the emergency normality is the emergency normality. Is wrong to think that the argument used by government USA to employ war is a solutions to finish terrorism. In the real world it doesn’t exist a justification which consists in terrorism attacks. One of the aspects more outstanding of he discussions about the fundamental rights is the possibility to have a constitutional state to respond in a good manner to the terrorists’ menaces. Terrorism can be combat inside the legally. The principal difference between the democratic state and the terrorism is the legitimacy.
