Abstract

Rules and recommendations are presented in this document to establish and certify, under the ISO 9001 standards, a design and development process for a metal workshop; each one of the items of the norm involved with the design and development are treated in such way that they can be easily followed and used by any metal workshop.

Keywords

Design and development, metal workshop, certification, ISO 9001 Standards.