Abstract
In this work the importance and actual tendencies of nurseries of horticultural planting production in Mexico are analyzed under greenhouse conditions; the agricultural systems that require the production of planting in containers and a brief description of operation of container planting machine is also mentioned. As well as the functional and operative description of the system of machines that are required to make all and each one of the operations of the technological process.

Keywords
Machine system, plug production, nurseries, greenhouse, mechanization