Abstract
Based on a survey, this paper analyses some aspects of the system of customary feeding practices of families in a middle-class neighbourhood of Cali. This paper is primarily an effort to describe and analyze some aspects related to the interactions among members of the household before, during and after a meal.

Keywords
Sociology of Food, Domestic Work, Daily Life, Sexual Division of Work.